HISTORY.

THE settlement of Williamstown—then called "West Hoosick"—was commenced in 1753. It was incorporated in 1765, and in the same year the proprietors invited the Rev. WHITMAN WELCH "to the work of the ministry in this town." A church was soon formed and placed under his pastoral care. But the records of its formation have not been preserved, and nothing is now known of the names and number of its members, until the time of the settlement of its second Pastor, fourteen years later.

Mr. Welsh was a native of Milford, Conn., graduated at Yale College in 1762, "was a man of intelligence and activity, attentive to the duties of his office, and serious and earnest in their performance."* He was ordained the latter part of the year 1765, and was pastor of the church for about twelve years. In the winter of 1776, he went with the American army to Canada, as chaplain of a regiment to which a party belonged, commanded by Lieut. Z. Sabin, of this town, and died of the small-pox, in March of that year, near Quebec.

The second pastor of this Church was the Rev. SETH SWIFT, a native of Kent, Conn., and a graduate of Yale College in 1774. He was ordained May 26, 1779, three years after the death of Mr. Welsh. At this time the church consisted of 61 members; and 273 were added during his ministry of nearly 28 years. Mr. Swift was "warm and open in his temper, evangelical in his religious views, serious in the general tone of his intercourse with his people, zealous in the labors of the ministry, decided in his opinions, and prudent and energetic in his measures."† He died after a short illness, Feb. 15, 1807. The following entry on the records of the church testifies their affection and esteem for their pastor. "At about 9 o'clock, A. M., the Rev. Seth Swift, our much esteemed, dearly beloved, and very faithful and laborious pastor, died, in the midst of great usefulness, while God was pouring out his Spirit here, and giving him many seals of his ministry."

After the death of Mr. Swift, the church remained without a pastor more than six years, and were supplied by the President of the College—Rev. Dr. Fitch—and others. During this time 103 were admitted to the church, including 36 who were the fruits of a revival, which was in progress at the time of Mr. Swift's death.

The Rev. Walter King was installed as pastor of this church July 6, 1813, and, after a ministry of a little more than two years, died of an apoplectic attack, which came upon him in the pulpit, Dec. 1, 1815, at the age of 57 years. He was a native of Wilbraham, Mass., and a graduate of Yale College in 1782. Before his settlement in this place he had been twenty-four years pastor of the second church in Norwich, Conn., where his reputation was good. In a short obituary notice, understood to be from the pen of the late Rev. Dr. Hyde of Lee, he is honored as a "sound divine, a solemn and searching preacher, and eminently a man of prayer."* During his ministry here, the admissions to the church were 21, and 12 more were admitted before the ordination of his successor.

The Rev. Ralph Wells Gridley was ordained and installed as pastor of this Church Oct. 9, 1816. He was a son of the late Rev. Elijah Gridley, of Granby, in this State, and graduated at Yale College in 1814. Having commenced his ministry here in the freshness of his youth, he was a faithful and laborious pastor of this people for seventeen and a half years, when he was dismissed at his own request, April 27, 1834, and removed, with his family, to Illinois, as a missionary of the American Home Missionary Society. It was principally with the hope of greater usefulness in the West, that he sought a release from his pastoral relation here. His labors, however, in that field, though much blessed, were of short continuance. He died at Ottawa, Ill., February 2, 1840, greatly lamented by the churches and people, to whom he ministered.

Mr. Gridley was a man of quick perceptions, a warm heart, ardent piety, and great activity. He was self-sacrificing and earnest in his labors, ready at every call of duty, and the cause of religion appears to have been greatly advanced by his ministry. During his continuance here, many revivals were enjoyed, and 609 members were added to the Church, 534 of whom were received by profession.* The records of the Church, consenting to his dismission, contain an expression of "their most affectionate regard for their pastor, and a deep sense of the spiritual blessings enjoyed by the church under his ministry.

The Rev. JOSEPH ALDEN was ordained and installed as pastor of this Church, July 3, 1834. His health was soon found to be insufficient for the labors of his charge, and as early as March, 1835, he asked a dissolution of his pastoral relation. The Church, after some delay, consented to his request, but the pastoral relation was not actually dissolved until Feb. 10, 1836, by the Council convened to ordain his successor.

Mr. Alden—now Rev. Dr. Alden—was a graduate of Union College in 1828, and of the Princeton Theological Seminary in 1832. His ministry as the pastor of this church, though brief, was useful and acceptable. During its continuance, there were six admissions to the church.

Rev. ALBERT SMITH, a graduate of Middlebury College in 1832, and of the Andover Theological Seminary in 1835, was ordained and installed as pastor of this Church Feb. 11, 1836. He continued in this charge a little more than two years, when, having received a call to a Professorship in Marshall College, Pennsylvania, he was dismissed, at his own request, May 6, 1838. During his brief ministry here,† the admissions to the Church were 24.

After the dismission of Mr. Smith, the Church remained a year and eight months destitute of a pastor, and were supplied by the President and Professors of the College and others, during which time 10 members were admitted to the Church by letter. ‡

The Rev. AMOS SAVAGE was installed pastor of this Church, Jan. 22, 1840. Mr. Savage was a graduate of Middlebury College in 1822, and of the Princeton Theological Seminary in

*The average of admissions by profession, during Mr. Gridley's ministry, is thus seen to have been about 30 each year, which is a larger average than have been received during the ministry of any other pastor. It should be remarked, however, that until the close of the pastorate of Mr. Gridley, the Faculty of the College, and those Students who professed religion, were in general members of this Church. In June, 1834, a separate church was formed in College under the pastoral care of the President.

†The Second Congregational Church of Williamstown, was formed during this pastorate, from members dismissed from the First, Aug. 20, 1836.

‡The twelve months from Aug. 22, '38, to Aug. 18, '39, were filled by Prof. Albert Hopkins as acting pastor.

1825; was first settled as pastor of a Church in his native place, Granville, N. Y., afterwards spent a year as a missionary in Tallahassee, Florida, and was several years pastor of the Bleeker-street Presbyterian Church, Utica, N. Y., from which he was called to this Church. He continued here three years, until Jan. 30, 1843, when, at his own request, he was released from the further charge of this Church, to accept of an agency for the American Tract Society, and his dismission was subsequently consummated by a mutual council. During his ministry here, 106 were added to the Church, 83 of them by profession and 23 by letter.

The Church was then without a pastor one year and ten months, and was supplied by different preachers, during which time there were 8 additions by profession and 2 by letter.

The Rev. Absalom Peters, D. D., was installed pastor of this Church, November 20, 1844. Dr. Peters was a graduate of Dartmouth College in 1816. During his ministry 99 were added to the Church; 72 by profession and 27 by letter. He was dismissed in October, 1853, to act as agent for Williams College.

The Rev. Henry R. Hoisington was then chosen as acting pastor, which part he faithfully filled from November, 1853, to March, 1856. During his ministry 67 were added to the Church; 48 by profession, and 19 by letter. He was an active servant.

The Rev. Addison Ballard, a graduate of Williams College, was installed pastor, September 14, 1857. He was an elegant writer and speaker, refined in manners, and won the hearts of his people. His health failed, and he resigned his pastorate. He was dismissed, with great regret, in December, 1864. During his ministry 107 were added to the Church; 80 by profession, and 27 by letter.

Prof. Albert Hopkins then supplied the pulpit till October, 1865, during which time one by profession and one by letter were added to the Church.

The Rev. Mason Noble, D. D., was then invited to become acting pastor till November, 1866. He was zealous and faithful in his Master's service, and during his ministry 59 were added to the Church: 45 by profession, and 14 by letter.

From Nov. 1, 1866, to April 1, 1867, the pulpit was supplied by Prof. John Bascom. There were 4 additions to the Church by letter.

After an interim of seven months, which was filled by Rev.

Calvin Durfee, Rev. Edward Griffin, Rev. Mason Noble, and others, during which time 6 were received to the Church by letter and 3 by profession. Rev. E. P. Wells officiated as acting pastor for one year, Nov. 1, 1867, to Oct. 28, 1868. 11 were received to the Church by profession, and 2 by letter.

Ths Church was again without a pastor for some months. Rev. Daniel S. Rodman preached for a few Sabbaths, and was called to the pastorate, but declined the call June 13, 1869.

The new House of Worship was dedicated to the service of God, September 12, 1869. Sermon by Rev. Mason Noble, D. D.

The Church and Society having incurred "a very burdensome and almost hopeless debt," by the erection of their new House of Worship," Prof. Albert Hopkins kindly offered to supply the pulpit without salary for an indefinite period. His offer was accepted, and under his self-denying and judicious labors, not only was the debt entirely assumed by individuals, but the interests of the Church and Society in general were greatly advanced. He retired from his labors May 24, 1872. During his ministry 7 were received by letter, and 5 by profession.

Rev. A. C. Sewall commenced his labors Dec. 15, 1872, and was installed pastor of the Church Feb. 26, 1873. During his ministry thus far, there have been added to the Church, by letter 42, by profession 76.

HOUSES OF WORSHIP.

RELIGIOUS worship was conducted ten or twelve years in a school-house standing on the corner lot, north-east of the late house of worship. The first proposal to build a house for public worship, was in Jan. 1766, and the first meeting-house, 40 feet by 30, was built by the "proprietors," in 1768. It stood near the site of the late edifice, and was occupied as a house of worship until 1798. Other portions of the town, it appears, were not satisfied with this location, and a vote was obtained in town-meeting in Jan. 1777, to build a meeting-house "near the center of the town." The subject was much discussed, for the accommodation of both ends of the town. In 1779 it was voted that the south part should have their portion of the meeting there, until there should be a meeting-house in the centre: and a "stake" was set for a meeting-house by a committee, and the site approved by vote of the town, July 1781, east of the county road, a quarter of a mile north of the dwelling house of the late Gordon Bulkeley, on the top of "Stone hill." But after much fruitless endeavor, it was found impracticable for the town so to agree upon this, or any other location, as to unite in building a single house for the accommodation of both ends of the town, and the effort was abandoned.

In Sept. 1796, a vote of the town was obtained to allow a meeting-house to be built by the proprietors, the old one to be removed and used as a town-house. The house was soon erected, and began to be occupied for worship in 1798. It was 76 feet by 55, and cost about $6,000. It was destroyed by fire on the afternoon of January 21, 1866. (Sabbath.)

The new building, dedicated to the worship of God September 12, 1869, is a brick structure trimmed with freestone. The main building is 89 feet long. The floor of the audience room is 68 feet long, and 55 feet wide, with spacious galleries on three sides, and an organ gallery on the fourth. Length of room on level with galleries, is 89 feet. Height of room from the floor to the arch of the ceiling is nearly 40 feet.

The Lecture room in rear of, and connected with the main building by an entrance hall, is heptagonal in form: in length 37 feet, and width 48 feet. There are two towers: one on the south-east, and the other on the south-west angle of the main building. The largest, surmounted with spire, is in height 123½ feet; the smaller, with spire, 92 feet. It was erected at a total cost of about $40,000.

Doctrinal Basis and Polity.

The Polity of the Church has been, from its foundation, Congregational.

"The original Confession of Faith and Covenant of this Church," says Mr. Gridley in the "Report of Committee on Revision of the Confession and Covenant," dated "Jan. 2. 1826," "were long and full. Their great length soon led to the use of abridgements of them. At some times, it is believed, abridged forms have been used that were made by the sole discretion of the pastor, without the formal sanction of the Church. At other times, the Church, or at least the other officers of it, have, it is said, been consulted on this subject. But down to the time of the settlement of the present pastor,* there is no record that the Church had adopted or authorized the use of any other than the long original confession before mentioned.

"The form that has been used by the present pastor* is also an abridgement of the same original one, but was adopted by a vote of the Church at their annual meeting nine years since. But having been prepared in the above-mentioned manner, that is, by abridgement of one, two or three times as long, it was almost of necessity less proper and correct in its form than it might otherwise have been.

"The Committee have, therefore, deemed it advisable, in the exercise of the discretionary power given them, to put the Confession and the Covenant into a new form. It has been their intention, however, to preserve the entire substance of the old. The Confession herewith presented, it is believed, contains the same doctrines which have ever been the faith and profession of this Church, and the Committee believe that none who approve those doctrines will find here any religious sentiment they will disapprove, or anything omitted of what the Church has considered fundamentally important."

Following are the Articles of Faith as then reported and adopted by the Church, and which have since been publicly read on the admission of members:

ARTICLE I.

We, as a Church, believe that Jehovah, the true and eternal God, who made, supports, and governs the world, is possessed of every perfection both natural and moral, and that he exists in three persons, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, who possess the same nature, and are equal in every divine perfection.

Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their hosts; the earth and all things that are therein, the sea and all that is therein; and thou preservest them all, and the host of heaven worshipeth thee. Neh. ix. 6. God is love. 1 John iv. 8. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. Matt. v. 48. And the Lord passed by before him and proclaimed, The Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, long suffering and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation. Ex. xxxiv. 6, 7.

By His Son, whom He hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also He made the worlds; who being the brightness of His glory, and the express image of His person, and upholding all things by the word of His power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down at the right hand of the majesty on high. And let all the angels of God worship him. But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever, a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom. Heb. i. 2, 3, 6, 8.

But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thy heart to lie to the Holy Ghost? Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God. Acts v. 3, 4. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. 2 Cor. xiii, 14. See also Coloss. i. 14 to 19. Rev. v. 8 to 13. 1 John v. 7, 8, 20.

ARTICLE II.

We believe that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testa-tament were written by holy men, as they were moved by the Holy Ghost, and are the only infallible rule of faith and practice.

All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. 2 Tim. iii. 16, 17. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man, but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. 2 Pet. i. 19 to 21. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. Ps. cxix. 105.

ARTICLE III.

We believe that God has made all things for himself; that known unto him are all his works from the beginning; and that he governs all things according to the counsel of his own will.

Thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. Rev. iv. 11. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. Acts ii. 23. For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done. Acts iv. 28. Eph. i. 11. The counsel of the Lord standeth forever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. Ps. xxxiii. 11.

ARTICLE IV.

We believe that men are immortal and accountable: that the law of God is perfect, and his government just and good; and that all rational persons are under obligation to love and obey Him.

Every one of us shall give account of himself to God. Rom. xiv. 12. We must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done whether it be good or bad. 2 Cor. v. 10.

ARTICLE V.

We believe that in consequence of the apostasy of Adam, sin and misery have been introduced into the world, and that all men, unless renewed by the Holy Spirit, are destitute of holiness, and under the curse of the divine law

Wherefore as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. Rom. v. 12. That which is born of the flesh is flesh. Marvel not, that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. John iii. 6, 7. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace: because the carnal mind is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God. Rom. viii. 6 to 8.

ARTICLE VI.

We believe that the Lord Jesus Christ assumed the nature of man, and, by his obedience and death, made atonement for the sins of the world, and procured for those who believe in him, eternal life.

For verily he took not on him the nature of angels: but he took on him the seed of Abraham. Heb. ii. 16. And the word was made flesh and dwelt among us. John i. 14. And he is propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. 1 John ii. 2. Thou wast slain and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred and tongue and people and nation. Rev. v. 9.

ARTICLE VII.

We believe that whosoever will, may accept of the offers of mercy freely made in the Gospel; but that no one will do this, except he be drawn by the Father.

Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. Rev. xxii. 17. Ye will not come to me that ye might have life. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him. John v. 40; vi. 44.

ARTICLE VIII.

We believe that those who are finally saved, will owe their salvation to the mere sovereign mercy of God, in Christ Jesus, through repentance and faith in him, and not to any works of righteousness which they have done.

Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will, to the praise of the glory of his grace. Eph i. 5. But we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth. 2 Thess. ii. 13. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Ghost. Tit. iii. 5.

ARTICLE IX.

We believe that a conscientious discharge of the various duties, which we owe to God, to our fellow men, and to ourselves, as enjoined in the Gospel, is not only constantly binding on every Christian, but affords to himself and to the world the only decisive evidence of his interest in the Redeemer.

Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. John xv. 14. And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? Luke vi. 46. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this: To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world. James i. 27.

ARTCLE X.

We believe that the sacraments of the New Testament are Baptism and the Lord's Supper:—that Baptism is to be administered to believers and their households, and the Lord's Supper to be received by all his disciples.

Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Math. xxviii. 19. And he was baptized, he and all his, straightway. Acts xvi. 33. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas. 1 Cor. i. 16. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body, which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the New Testament in my blood, which is shed for you. Luke xxii. 19, 20.

ARTICLE XI.

We believe that there will be a resurrection of the body, and that all mankind must appear before the judgment seat of Christ, to receive a just and final retribution, according to the deeds done in the body: and that the wicked will be sent away into everlasting punishment, and the righteous received into life eternal.

So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption. It is sown a natural body: it is raised a spiritual body. 1 Cor. xv. 42, 44. He hath appointed a day in the which he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained. Acts xvii. 31. So shall it be in the end of the world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity: and shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun, in the kingdom of their Father. Math. xiii. 40 to 43. Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you; and to you who are troubled, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, in flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his power: when he shall come to be glorified in his Saints and to be admired in all them that believe in that day. 2 Thess. i. 6 to 10. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. Then shall the king say unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the Devil and his angels: and these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal. Math. xxv. 34, 41, 46.

We, as a Church, do hereby reaffirm the foregoing Articles as sufficiently indicating our doctrinal position. We expect all officers, teachers, and members of this Church, to be sound in the Faith as here indicated.

We regard the essential qualifications for membership in any Christian Church, however, to be, Repentance toward God and Faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. While we are not allowed to receive any who lack these essential qualifications, we desire to exclude none who possess them, and who, knowing our Doctrinal position and our Polity, are willing to co-operate with us in advancing the Redeemer's kingdom.

We have therefore adopted the following form for the admission of members:

FORM OF ADMISSION.

[The names of the candidates having been read, they shall take their places in front of the pulpit, and the minister shall address them, saying :]

You are here before God and these witnesses, to confess the Lord Jesus Christ, and to dedicate yourselves to Him in the everlasting covenant of His grace. Feeling the solemnity and blessedness of this privilege, you now unite with us in this

CONFESSION.

I believe in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth: and in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead and buried; the third day he arose from the dead; He ascended into Heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Ghost; the Holy Catholic Church; the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting.

COVENANT.

Accepting Jesus Christ as your Savior, you do now enter into solemn covenant with God the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, promising that, henceforth, it shall be your chief aim and endeavor, through searching the Scriptures and by prayer, to know and to do His will.

(The candidates shall assent by bowing.)

BAPTISM.

You who in childhood were admitted by baptism to a place in the covenant of God, do now, of your own accord, assume its full obligations and privileges; and,

(The foregoing shall be omitted if none have been baptized.)

To you who have had no part, by baptism, among the people of God, we do now apply the seal of the covenant.

(The foregoing shall be omitted if all have been baptized.)

(Here the minister shall baptize those who have never been baptized, saying to each, and using only the Christian names :)

——— ———, I baptize thee into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

COVENANT WITH THE CHURCH.

(Here those who unite by letter, and who shall be seated in front, shall rise, and for them (in case none join in confession) the form of admission shall be in the following words :)

In uniting with this Church you promise to devote yourselves [yourself] especially to its interests; to aid in its support, to attend upon its services, to submit to its rules and discipline, to study the Scriptures diligently that you may comprehend its doctrines, and to co-operate with it in endeavoring to advance the cause of Christ here and throughout the whole world. This you heartily promise?

We then, as members of this Church,

do affectionately welcome you in the name of Christ, to His discipleship; to a part with us in the blessings and promises of His covenant; to a share in the duties, privileges and glories of His Church; and to the fellowship of that great multitude, which no man can number, who are redeemed by the blood of the Lamb.

And we promise, through the help of Christ, to co-operate with you in all holy endeavor. For this cause, we make supplication unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, that he would grant you, according to the riches of His glory, to be strengthened with might by His Spirit in the inner man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints, what is the length, and breadth, and depth, and height, and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge.

The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make His face to shine upon you, and be gracious unto you; the Lord lift up His countenance upon you, and give you peace.

Now unto Him that is able to keep you from falling and to present you faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever. Amen.

BENEVOLENCE.

In fulfillment of the foregoing covenant it is expected that each member of the Church will give of his substance as the Lord prospers him, for the maintenance of the Church and Sabbath School, for the aid of the poor, and for the extension of the kingdom of our blessed Redeemer, both at home and abroad.

It is strongly recommended that each adopt some system of giving. So important a matter should not be left to occasional feeling.

The Church, as such, has adopted "The Worship of God by Offerings." The boxes are passed during the Sabbath morning service, to receive the gifts of those who wish thus to express their gratitude and love to God. It is left optional with each contributor to designate where his gift shall go. All undesignated gifts are distributed by vote of the Church, such vote being announced from the pulpit.

For the teaching of the Scripture respecting Benevolence, see Matt. 25: 14–30, Luke 16: 1–9, 1 Tim. 6, 9, 10, 17–19, 1 Cor. 16: 2, Prov. 11: 24, 25, and kindred passages.

RULES AS REVISED.

I.—RESPECTING MEMBERSHIP.

1. Persons wishing to unite with this Church by confession of faith, shall be examined by the Prudential Committee, and, it approved by them, shall be publicly recommended to the Church at a Sabbath service at least one week before Communion. If accepted by vote of the Church, they shall be received according to the foregoing Form of Admission, at the Sabbath service immediately preceding Communion.

2. Letters of recommendation from other churches shall be read at a Sabbath service at least one week before communion, and persons so recommended and accepted by vote of the Church shall be received at the Sabbath service immediately preceding Communion, by entering into covenant with the Church according to the foregoing Form.

3. The covenant made with God is irrevocable; that made with the Church at the consummation of membership may be dissolved in one of four ways only, viz:

(1) By dismission and recommendation to some other Church.

(2) By death.

(3) By excommunication.

(4) By release.

The Covenant of Membership is consummated in view of two supposed conditions, viz:

Agreement of the candidate with the church. 1st: In its vital union with Christ the Head. 2d: In the spirit of mutual co-operation.

Should any member discover in himself the absence of either or both of these conditions, and be for this cause conscientiously impelled to request a release from covenant obligations, it shall be competent to the Church to grant such request.

Persons whose covenant relations are so dissolved shall be termed simply "released." They may at any time be admitted to the Church again, as provided in Rule No. 1. This method of dissolving covenant shall in no case be resorted to as an escape from discipline.

For any member to withdraw from the discharge of covenant obligations for more than one year without asking and receiving regular dismissal or release, or giving sufficient reason for such withdrawal, shall be deemed a breach of covenant, and must be immediately acted upon by the Church.

Those who remove from town are expected to apply for letters of dismissal within one year from the time of removal. If for any reason such a letter is not applied for within one year, the cause must be communicated to the clerk, and by him to the Church. Three years absence, either in case of a resident or non-resident member, without asking for a letter of dismissal, or requesting release, or rendering to the Church sufficient reason, shall render the member liable to suspension; five years to excommunication.

4. No member can be deprived of church privileges for any other reason except by regular process of discipline.

5. No letters in blank, or "to whatever Church God in His Providence may assign your lot," and the like, shall be given.

6. In case of those regularly dismissed from the Church by letter, membership shall cease when the letter given has been accepted by the Church to which it was addressed and notice of the same has been received by the clerk of this Church. Letters shall be granted by vote of the Church.

7. One of the privileges of membership shall be the right to vote upon all questions which come before the Church.

II.—RULES OF DISCIPLINE.

1. The purpose of discipline shall be, first,—the restoration, if possible, of the person offending; second,—the purification of the Church and so the honor of Christ its head.

2. Any violation of covenant vows and whatever is inconsistent with Christian character, may be made a subject of discipline.

3. In all cases of personal grievance the course pursued shall be that enjoined by Christ in Matt. xviii: 15—17.

4. In all other cases of unchristian conduct it shall be the duty of the brother or sister first discovering the wrong to obey, if possible, the exhortation found in Gal. vi: 1—2. If no good result is thus accomplished let a second brother or sister be associated with the first as directed in Matt. xviii: 16. All cases not yielding to this faithful personal endeavor shall be made known to the Prudential Committee.

5. The Committee shall, at their discretion, delegate one or more of their members to investigate the case, see the offender, urge him to make such voluntary redress or confession as may be deemed wise, and report to them at the earliest opportunity.

6. No unchristian conduct of a member shall be made known to another unless in the judgment of the one having knowledge of it, the good of the offender, the purity of the Church, and the honor of Christ demand it.

Any member who shall otherwise publish the fault of another shall be deemed worthy of censure for circulating scandal. See 1st Peter, iii: 8, iv: 8, and Leviticus xix: 16.

7. Cases of discipline shall be brought before the church at the discretion of the Prudential Committee, and shall be conducted as follows:

The Committee, after receiving the report of those delegated to make private investigation, shall present the case to the Church in writing, stating, as far as possible, the time, place and character of the offence, the witnesses who may be called, and whether the previous steps have been faithfully taken. If the Church thinks best to proceed with a formal trial it shall cite both the offender and the witnesses to appear before it at a stated meeting, furnishing each with a copy of the charges and the names of witnesses for the Church. No more shall be done at the first meeting except by consent of the accused, and the time intervening between the serving of the citation and the next meeting shall be at least one week. If the accused fail to appear in response to the first citation he shall be cited a second time, the third meeting being removed from the second by at least one week. If he then fail to appear he may be suspended for contumacy, and the case may or may not proceed, at the discretion of the Church. If the case proceed, the accused whether present or absent, shall be allowed the fairest hearing and any counsel that he may desire. It shall, however, be at the discretion of the Church whether to admit counsel, not a member or members of the Church. If the accused is, by vote of the Church, found guilty, censure shall be inflicted in the form of private reproof, public admonition, suspension, or excommunication, as may be deemed necessary.

Final action without trial may be taken only with consent of the accused.

8. The longest period of suspension shall be one year. If the offender is not previously restored, definite action shall be taken at the close of that period, either to restore, prolong suspension, or excommunicate.

9. The fact of excommunication shall be announced from the pulpit.

10. No course of discipline shall be considered ended until the accused shall have been either acquitted, restored, or excommunicated.

11. These rules may be altered or amended by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regularly called church meeting, such alteration or amendment having been presented to the church in writing at a previous meeting regularly called. A meeting shall be considered regularly called when at least five days intervene between the public notice from the pulpit and the day when it is to be held.
